THRILLING MANHUNT IS KEEPING N. Y. BUSY

New York, Feb. 20.—“Even money on the police department! Five to four on the Pinkertons against the Burns agency!”

These are about the odds offered today on the greatest manhunt that ever disturbed this city.

The prize of the hunt is up. It is the business of the American Bankers' association, which pays thousands of dollars every year for the protection of its members against crooks.

The forfeits are posted, too. They are the jobs of a good many members of the police department, Pinkerton agency and Burns agency. Many a good detective will be looking for a new job if he lets the other fellow beat him to it.

The object of the manhunt is the capture of the taxicab bandits
